INTRODUCTION

Remember that planning for your release needs to start immediately, not just a week before you are scheduled to leave. Reentry starts on your first day of incarceration and everything you do during your incarceration should be focused on increasing your knowledge and abilities for your pending release. As you begin, you first need to take an inventory of issues you may face when you return to the community.

The areas listed below can interfere with your success in establishing a stable life once you are released. Use the checklist below to help determine which areas may be a current or potential problem for you. When you have completed this exercise, look at these identified areas and start developing a plan to address them. This will help you decide what steps to take in an effort to assist in your transition to life on the outside. Dealing with these issues now, before release, may also help make them less overwhelming.

This book, and the work you do to complete the different areas, is to help you identify what YOUR needs will be for your successful reentry into your community. You are encouraged to use the “Reentry Resource Manual” and other sources as you complete the various exercises and worksheets. Once completed, this handbook will be an important tool, a personal resource even, on your journey toward a successful reentry and reconnection with your community, your family and yourself.

Mission Statement

"The Department of Corrections creates a safer Georgia by effectively managing offenders and providing opportunities for positive change."

CHAPTER 2 - Identification

Having APPROVED Identification is a critical tool for successful reentry.

Which DOCUMENTS will you have upon your release and/or HOW will you get them?

_________ Birth Certificate (certified) ________________________________

_________ Social Security Card ________________________________

_________ DL/State ID ________________________________

_________ Passport ________________________________

_________ Military ID ________________________________

_________ Marriage Certificate ________________________________

_________ Other ____________ ________________________________

To obtain a Driver’s License or State ID you MUST have the following documents:

- Birth Certificate
- Social Security Card
- Dept. of Corrections Residency Verification Form (DS-752)

OR

- TWO (2) FORMS of Proof of Residency such as: Utility Bills (power, water, gas, etc.), personal mail, rental/lease agreement,
CHAPTER 3 - Housing

Where do YOU plan to live when you get released from Prison? Have a Reentry Residence Plan….Then have a Back-up….then have another Back-up residence plan! Whether you are getting out on PAROLE, with PROBATION or being DISCHARGED, the area where you plan to reside will greatly influence where and how you access services you need. Additionally, while you may initially plan to live with a family member and then eventually get your “own place’, chances are you will continue to be in the same general area and use many of the services you will identify as part of this workbook.

If you have no restrictions on where you live, think hard before deciding to move back into your old neighborhood. There may be people and activities there to pull you back into committing crimes. You may need to “Change your Playmates and Change your Playground”!

When looking for housing, keep in mind where it is located relative to your work, what transportation is available, and what stores are in the area.

CHAPTER 5 - Clothing

You will need to secure appropriate clothing for job hunting and interviewing, as well as clothing for every day dress. Remember to “Dress for Success” whenever you will be out at potential “employment seeking” activities weather or not it is an official job search event. You may make an impression with a potential employer at any public (and private) event you attend!

There are community service and support organizations that may be able to assist with clothing. Find out and list possible options for clothing assistance in your area.

CHAPTER 6 - Transportation

One very important area for you to consider is your transportation plan. How you get to work, report to your probation or parole officer, and other important appointments can determine the rate of your success as you transition back into the community. There are many ways to get from “here to there” but sometimes we have to learn to think outside the box.

How do you plan to get around (for interviews, appointments, work, reporting, etc.)? List some transportation options for your area as well as community service providers that may be able to assist with transportation issues.

CHAPTER 7 – FOOD

“MAN (NOR WOMAN) CAN LIVE BY BREAD (OR RAMEN NOODLES) ALONE”…SO HOW DO YOU PLAN TO NUTRITIONALLY SUPPORT YOURSELF UPON RELEASE?

Many communities have Food Banks/Pantries, Soup Kitchens and other Meal Assistance programs. Additionally, you may be eligible for FOOD STAMPS and should apply for them through your local Department of Family and Children Services (DFACS) offices. Even if you are not eligible for food stamps due to you criminal history, your family members might possibly be eligible.

how to spend it, and making decisions you did not have to make while incarcerated. Learning to live within a “BALANCED BUDGET” is a very useful tool.

CHAPTER 9 – Medical/Health

Taking care of your physical health, including the continuation of medication you were taking while incarcerated, is a critical step in reentry. If you are on medication, you will only be given a limited supply of “take home meds” and you will need to follow up with your private doctor or at one of the publicly funded clinics in your release area AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. There may be a medication assistance program which can assist with paying for some of the medication you currently take. Make sure you have a “Medical Home” to go to once you are released and let the clinic/medical staff knows all of your medical issues, especially medication you take.

How Do You Register?

1. Registration On-Line (www.sss.gov)
2. The U.S. Post Office
3. Your counselor can help you register during your time in prison. Talk to them about getting this completed.

Verification: To verify registration status visit (www.sss.gov).
CHAPTER 12 - Mental Health Services

If you are receiving mental health services at the time of release, it is important to continue treatment upon your release.

Most Counties/Cities have a Community Service Board, often at the local Health Department, which can assist with treatment and medication.

   My Total = _____

Number of all questions answered with a “3” (I am not sure) = _____

More than one of all 20 questions answered with a “3” (I’m not sure) or a total score in this section of 4 or more means that I am in the pre-awareness stage of change. I should spend some more time evaluating my relationship with alcohol and other drugs and the effects they have had on me and others who I care about.

   II. My Question 2 number = _____
       My Question 3 number = _____
       My Question 4 number = _____
       My Question 5 number = _____
       My Question 6 number = _____
       My Question 7 number = _____
       My Question 8 number = _____
       My Question 9 number = _____
       My Question 13 number = _____
       My Question 14 number = _____
       My Total = _____

The best total score for these questions is a 10. A higher score means that I am in the awareness, pre-action stage of change. It is time that I made some serious decisions about changing the role of alcohol and other drugs in my life.
III. My Question 11 number = _____

My Question 12 number = _____

My Question 17 number = _____

My Total = _____

The best score in this section is a 3. A total score of 3-6 indicates that I am in the action stage of change. It is time to move from planning and promising to doing.

IV. My Question 10 number = _____

My Question 16 number = _____

My Question 15 number = _____

My Question 18 number = _____

My Question 19 number = _____

My Question 20 number = _____

My Total (do not include Question 16) = _____

The best score in each column is 5. If my total score is 5-10, I believe that I have family, social and community support for recovery. A score of 1, 2 or 3 on Question 16 means that I may need to break contact with those family members and friends who will undermine my recovery efforts.

CHAPTER 14

Family Reunification

Just as you had to adjust to life in prison, you will have to adjust to life as you return to the outside world. You cannot expect to feel immediately comfortable at first, but that does not mean it is time to give up. Be patient...with your family and with yourself as you re-integrate into the family, home and community.

Who are some (positive) people you plan to reconnect with when you get out of prison? Remember, you may need to “change your playmates” and not hang around or associate with some of your past friends/family if they threaten you, your freedom and your treatment.

What and where some “Family Events” are you could go with your loved ones as part of your re-integrations? Look for events in your area that are free or low cost.

Here are some suggestions that can help:

- Begin by appreciating the small things that others take for granted—such as privacy, being able to come and go as you please, etc.

- Avoid talking about life behind bars as your only conversation topic—practice making “small talk” about daily happenings instead. Begin visualizing positive ways to react to possible situations

- Don’t try to catch up on what you have missed; you cannot re-live time lost

- Be patient—know that you have to take small steps toward a new way of living

- Gradually you will begin to feel more like you belong “here” than “there”, back in prison life

Social Networking and the Internet

Social Media is a common part of everyday life and people engage in social networking for personal interactions and many other reasons. Many potential employers now require initial applications be made online and having an email account if a critical tool for reentry. Free “Wi-Fi” access is available at many places such as coffee shops, libraries and even McDonald’s!

List some possible “EMAIL NAMES/ADDRESSES” you can establish once you are released. Remember this may be seen by potential employers as well as friends and family and should be an appropriate name/address!
